A word from the organizer: Elena Berman-Gantard

As a classical pianist, I have always used other arts in my own piano teaching, to enhance and better help my piano students to express emotions in music. There are many skills used to express the ultimate human experience which all the arts share in common. Often, students concentrate on one art activity only. However, a truly well rounded person should have at least a basic understanding of how the arts can be integrated and used to enhance the practice of a chosen one.

Join me this Summer for one week of fun experiencing all Art forms from acting, dancing, drawing, singing in a choir to movie and music making!
